Destinations by Design

Sydney Zimmerman

Sales Manager

szimmerman@dbdvegas.com

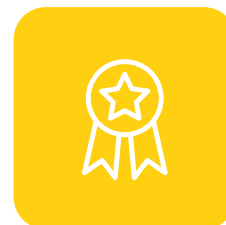

For over 29 years, we've been in the business of making the intangible, tangible in the world of destination management, event, and design services. From conception to execution, we plan, manage, and design each and every detail of each and every project. By delivering innovative solutions for our clients, and doing things the right way, we've built a culture of accomplishment. Within our walls lives a family of designers, dreamers, and doers that work small, so our clients can dream big. As long as there are dreams, DBD will be here to design them.

Hello! Las Vegas

Laurel O'Neil

Senior Account Executive

loneil@hello-dmc.com

We're collaborators, event planners, logistics coordinators, innovators, creators, and dreamers who do what we love with a passion to please.

As a family-owned business with three generations of experience in the hospitality industry, the Mears family is directly involved in the day-to-day operations of the company and are frequently engaged with our clients. This family-owned but professionally managed approach has allowed us to remain a steadfast island in a sea of change as other DMCs consolidate to gain traction and stability. We are confident that we will maintain our success in outperforming our destination management peers for years to come.

Over the past 23 years, we've transformed from a boutique DMC into a financially sound, nationally recognized firm with established best practices, proprietary business software, and professional development programs. There are currently 13 Hello! offices, with locations in Scottsdale (AZ), Chicago (IL), Denver (CO), San Diego and San Francisco (CA), Washington (D.C.), Orlando and Miami (FL), Las Vegas (NV), Austin and Dallas (TX), Nashville (TN), and New York (NY). Thanks to our hard working dedicated professionals, we are now the exclusive, in-house service provider for nearly 25 major convention resorts, and a preferred provider for many more.
